Weekly
Roundup

WR 8-87

Feb. 26, 1987

The Foreign Agricultural Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture today reported the following developments in world agriculture and trade.

TRADE NOTES

URUGUAY ROUND AGRICULTURAL GROUP Meets in Geneva. The Uruguay Round Agricultural Negotiating Group completed its first formal meeting February 18 in Geneva. During the session, the group approved the appointment of Aart de Zeeuw of the Netherlands as chairman and began substantive discussions. Delegations used this first meeting largely as an opportunity to state their opening positions and to discuss and initiate the work which needs to be prepared for the next meeting of the group. No major decisions were made. The next meeting is scheduled to take place in early May.

DAIRY, LIVESTOCK AND POULTRY

CHINESE Pork Production Forecast To Fall Slightly in 1987. The U.S. agricultural counselor in Beijing reports that high feed prices will cause the Chinese to reduce hog herd growth and production in 1987. Hog numbers at the start of 1987 were estimated at 331.6 million head, up slightly from 1986, and 10 million head above earlier projections for 1987. Pork production in 1986 was up 4.2 percent to 17.25 million tons, slightly below earlier estimates. For 1987, production is projected to fall to 17.05 million tons. Feed prices at the end of January were reported 35-40 percent above year-ago levels.

WOOD AND WOOD PRODUCTS

U.S. Wood Product Exports Exceed $3 Billion. U.S. wood product exports surged to a five-year high of slightly more than $3.0 billion in 1986, up 13 percent from $2.7 billion in 1985. The strong showing came chiefly on the strength of a 20-percent increase in exports of softwood logs and lumber to Japan.

Total U.S. exports to Japan in 1986 were $1.3 billion. Japanese interest in U.S. wood products intensified in 1986 as the dollar continued to decline against the yen. U.S. exporters also capitalized on Canada's inability to supply Japan due to domestic labor disputes in its forest products industry.

U.S. exports of wood products to China slipped dramatically in 1986 as continuing exchange availability difficulties reduced U.S. exports 44 percent from $329 million in 1985 to $183 million in 1986.

U.S. exports of value-added wood products exhibited marked increases. Softwood plywood exports expanded 75 percent to $131 million.

The U.S. outlook for continued wood product export growth remains optimistic across all major commodities and markets. Year-end Chinese import activity in 1986 pointed toward a better year in 1987. Strong gains in Europe are expected to continue. The expansion of the European Community's quota for softwood plywood and renewed European interest in U.S. hardwoods bode well for the coming year.

Taiwan and South Korea remain large purchasers of U.S. hardwoods. Domestic demand for wood and a desire to export furniture drive this demand.

U.S. wood exports for January through December 1986 are shown in the table below. All figures are in millions of dollars on a free along side value basis.

	Japan	Canada	China	Other	Total
Softwood logs	775.5	67.1	178.5	108.3	1,129.4
Softwood lumber	260.1	90.2	1.1	287.5	638.9
Softwood plywood	2.3	20.9	0.0	108.1	131.3
Hardwood logs	13.4	8.3	0.0	75.6	97.3
Hardwood lumber	45.3	70.4	0.1	221.3	337.1
Hardwood plywood	0.5	3.9	0.0	9.0	13.4
Other products	9.5	29.2	3.4	352.7	674.8
Total	1,286.6	390.0	183.1	1,162.5	3,022.2

U.S. imports of wood products for 1986 were $5.2 billion, up 5 percent over the same period last year. However, the overall rate of increase slowed from 10 percent the previous year. Seventy percent of all U.S. wood products imports were from Canada. Softwood lumber imports from Canada totaled $2.8 billion, or 13.8 billion board feet. Canadian wood shingles and shakes totaled 5.15 million squares, or $174 million in 1986, down 3 percent from 1985. In 1986 the United States also imported hardwood plywood valued at $485 million, with Indonesia accounting for $250 million and Taiwan accounting for $118 million.
